

NORMAN, IS THAT YOU?

By Ron Clark & Sam Bobrick

Translated by Yaron Frid Directed by Nathan Datner
Set Design Alexandra Nardi Costumes Svetlana Berger
Lighting Meir Alon Music Editor Arik Avigdor
Movement Oron Dahan

The Cast:

Oscar Chambers - Norman Issa
Charlot Chambers - Rubi Porat Shoval
Orson Chambers - Yoav Donat
Garson Hobard - Tall Kallai
Mery - Hila Shalev
Dancers:
Vital Gizelgil,
Nadav Shaham / Oron Dahan

Production Manager: Kineret Tzur
Assistant Director: Michal Isaak

Program: Ruth Tonn-Mendelson, Rami Semo
Rehearsal Photos: Gerard Allon
Graphic Design: Nutelstudio

Opening: 30 June, 2015 The Meskin Theatre | Length: 1 hour and 30 minutes with no interval

The Play

After his wife ditches him for his own brother, Oscar heads to New York to find comfort at his adult son Orson. But instead of the reassurance he's seeking, Oscar's rocked again when he discovers the truth behind Orson's orientation as well as his son's flamboyant, elitist boyfriend. From when it opened in 1970, "Norman, Is That You?" was the first play to treat homosexuality in an entirely open and comic manner, inaugurating a new era of acceptance.